

BYLAWS

ARTICLE I. NAME

The name of the organization shall be Mycoses Study Group Education and Research Consortium (MSGERC).

ARTICLE II. MISSION/PURPOSE

This organization is dedicated to providing continuing medical education and scientific/medical thought leadership for evidence-based medicine in the diagnoses, prevention, treatment and maintenance of patients at risk for, or afflicted with, invasive fungal infections.

Our mission is to be a resource for the development, conduct, and interpretation of translational investigations in clinical mycology, to provide effective live and enduring education in clinical mycology, to promote development of the next generation of practitioners and investigators in this field, and promote advocacy for the profession and to patient populations.

ARTICLE III. MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. Qualifications. Membership is open to all persons interested in mycoses and wishing to further the mission of the organization. A person shall be declared a member upon filing an application form and submitting the payment of the annual dues.

Section 2. Categories. There are four categories of membership (a-d below). All members in good standing, having paid their annual dues, are eligible to vote on organizational initiatives brought to the general membership, vote for officers and directors, and to nominate others to become officers and directors, and to serve on any committee, or as an officer or director, with the exception listed in d. below.

Categories of membership are:

a. Individual Academic/Clinical/Basic. Any person currently or previously working in an academic setting or clinical practice or consultation with an interest in clinical, educational, translational, or basic mycology.

b. Individual-Government. Any person currently or previously working in a Governmental organization with Mycology.

c. Current physician or investigator in training. Any current trainee or PhD candidate in a medical program, or international equivalent, with studies including those in clinical basic or transplant mycology. The fee for trainee membership will be offered at a reduced rate.

d. Individual-Industry. Any person working in mycology in a for-profit organization. An industry member shall have all membership rights as the other categories, except they may not serve on the Board of Directors, or as a committee chair, or vote on research and educational activities to avoid any appearance of conflict of interest.

Section 3. Non-discrimination. There are no restrictions based upon residence, age, race or creed. If there is a doubt regarding the suitability of the applicant, the Executive Director will defer the application to the Board of Directors for a decision.

ARTICLE IV. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. General Powers. The Board of Directors of the organization shall be made up of eligible members in good standing, elected by the membership, who are authorized to act as its governing agency. The Board shall be responsible to assuring compliance to these Bylaws, and for the fulfillment of attaining the organization's mission and goals.

Section 2. Composition. The Board of Directors of the organization shall be made up of officers and at least two Directors. Officers shall be: President, Immediate Past President, President-Elect, Secretary, and Treasurer.
